

"Streatham means 'hamlet on the street', but performing a show literally on a street can mean an enormous amount of planning, obtaining permissions, closing roads, liaising with the police, background traffic noise and potential risk to actors and audience, so we're taking Hamlet off the street, and performing it in St. Leonard's, with the audience following the action as it unfolds around the church." Hamlet off the Street – Shakespeare comes to Streatham!

Led by Liz Burton

About the show

Hamlet is one of Shakespeare's best-known plays, with a powerful story and some of the most beautiful speeches and familiar sayings ever written in English. As Streatham means 'hamlet on the street', it's fitting that Hamlet is STC's first single play foray into Shakespeare's world. We're going to tell the story by combining some of the most famous scenes with narration, poetry and music, as the audience follow the story in their heads and on their feet.

About the workshop

As well as giving you a chance to read Shakespeare's words aloud (no experience necessary), we're going to throw it open to the floor for you to inspire us with your ideas and opinions. We want to make this a show that all Streatham will want to come and see.
